Dear Supporter,

October was a blessed month for us, both in Talibon and here in the states.

In Talibon, Pastor Josol reported five professions of faith. Praise God! While I don't highlight it every month, every month our missionary is systematically evangelizing his area via preaching to the police force, jail inmates, and public school students; conducting services, and engaging in one on one evangelism. We also rejoice in the addition of two by baptism during the month.

The dirty kitchen the mission built—to a functional level—leading up to their anniversary is nearing total completion. Again, this was built with materials the mission had or purchased and with their own labor…of their own volition. There was never a request from them for mission funds for this project.

As we continue preparing for the day our future second missionary will be taking the field, we are attempting to gauge what we believe we will be able to pay him. One supporting church has already notified us that their support will be increasing $100 once he is on the field, and so our intent is to roll all of that into his salary as a starting point.

Meanwhile, our finances continue to be surprisingly strong. Our regular supporters continue to faithfully give, and we also continue to get special offerings most months. This past month, two special offerings put our income a few hundred dollars beyond what we needed to pay the one salary we are currently paying. This level of giving, coupled with the healthy balance we are currently carrying, will also be factoring into how much we'll be committing in salary to our second missionary.

As I have stated to you before, we are thankful to be a church planting churches, and we are thankful for your partnership with us to continue to make that happen. The longer we are on this church-planting journey, the more we see that God is faithful and God's people are generous.

May God bless your ministry for Him where you are is our prayer.

For the souls,

Rod Dunlap, Pastor
