Dear Supporter,

The month of August was eventful in various ways for Bohol Missions, and God was good in every way.

On the field in Talibon, Pastor Josol continues to faithfully lead the congregation; preach in the jail, police department, and schools; and engage in one on one evangelism. God blessed that effort this month with four professions of faith. Praise God! Attendance also continued to hold higher than it has in previous months. Pastor Josol confirms this is due to the availability of the mission jeep.

Our jeep experienced a couple of breakdowns during the month. This was not unexpected to us as (a) it is used, (b) it is being used regularly, and (c) the terrain in which it's being used is rough. However, Pastor Josol took it upon himself to do the repairs, and the mission took it upon itself to pay for the repairs, and so we have not had to spend mission fund money to keep the jeep going. We're thankful that Pastor Josol is able and also willing to handle mechanical issues and that the mission is willing to take the initiative to take care of some of their own needs. The issues and repairs have been reported to us, but never have we been asked to pay for the repairs. On the last repair, I sent word to Pastor Josol the day after he contacted me that we would consider how we could help, and he told me to not worry, because the repair was already completed and the price paid.

Here in Charleston, we received a nice visit from the pastor of the supporting church that had disbanded. He told us during that visit that there is still money in the church account, and so the support of Bohol Missions will not cease immediately. That was a blessing!

In the last few weeks we have received requests from three men for us to consider sending them as missionaries. We know we will not be sending all three—for multiple reasons—but as we are considering them, we are seeking God as to whether He would have us to send at least one of them. We've been seeking a second missionary for 14 months, and so it's a blessing to now see the possibility of that becoming a reality.

As always, we are so very grateful for your support of Bohol Missions. We know financial situations are not optimal for all our supporters right now. We are currently experiencing financial pressures ourselves. In light of that, we are doubly grateful for your confidence in us to continue to support Bohol Missions.

For the souls,

Rod Dunlap, Pastor
